Ladies & Gentlemen,

Centenary Black Tie Dinner

We are happy to announce the ticketing details for our centenary black-tie dinner to be held at Oakham Rugby Club on Friday 7th October 2022.

Our main speaker will be former Leicester Tigers, Saracens & England hooker George Chuter whose playing career spanned more than a decade at the top level of professional rugby. George took part in seven Premiership finals for the Tigers and helped them reach four European Cup finals. George is also remembered as an intergral member of England's 2007 World Cup Team, coming on as a replacement in the final and who brings a wealth of rugby related stories for our entertainment.

The evening will be hosted by the well-known and respected multi-sport broadcaster John Inverdale with other high profile rugby legends Martin Johnson, Rory Underwood, Lewis Moody, Austen Healy and Matt Hampson on the invite list.

The evening will include a 3 course meal with coffee, wine will be available for purchase on the night.

A raffle and a "heads and tails" will be held on the night with the proceeds being split equally between the club and selected charities, so please bring plenty of £10 notes with you and give generously. Also on sale will be the club's centenary booklet, a hardback souvenir which traces the history of the club from its creation in 1923 to the present day.

Tickets are priced at £65 per person with tables of ten available. To reserve your ticket(s) please email tickets@oakhamrfc.com stating your name and the number of tickets/tables required. Payment for tickets will be by electronic bank transfer only into the following account.

Payment for all reserved tickets must be received by 31st July 2022, tickets not paid for by this date will go back on sale. Tickets for this event are limited and will be sold on a first come first served basis and a high demand is expected. Should the event be oversubscribed a waiting list for tickets will be established. Final arrangements and timings will be issued with your tickets.

This unique event promises to be a hugely memorable evening and we hope that you will give it your full support.

Yours Sincerely

Chris Burton
